

21 Revolutions

A stunning coffee table book of artists and writers creative responses to a unique collection of artifacts from the womens movement and social history spanning more than a century includes Denise Mina, A. L. Kennedy, Louise Welsh, Janice Galloway, and more. In collaboration with the Glasgow Womens Library, 21 Revolutions pairs 21 artists and writers with one item each from the librarys archive, providing fascinating insight and response to the history of the womens movement, and creating a beautiful book of new writing and contemporary art. Glasgow Womens Library is unique, part of the international feminist art and archive movement that has proliferated since the 1970s, and its collections include an unrivaled range of artifacts and material relating to the womens movement in Scotland. Some of Scotlands most celebrated women creatives including Jackie Kay, Jen Hadfield, Anne Donovan, Karen Campbell, Denise Mina, Elizabeth Reeder, A.L. Kennedy, Helen Fitzgerald, Zoe Wicomb, Muriel Gray, Louise Welsh, Janice Galloway, Lucy Skaer, Karla Black, Claire Barclay, Sam Ainsley, Corin Sworn, and many others have created extraordinary art, poetry, and prose across the fields of social and womens history, feminism, and equality.
