Victorias Children of the Dark: The Women and Children Who Built Her Underground

Victorias Children of the Dark tells the story of Queen Victorias invisible subjects - women and children who laboured beneath her green and pleasant land harvesting the coal to fuel the furnaces of the industrial revolution. Following the real fortunes seven-year-old Burkinshaw and his family, Alan Gallop recreates the events surrounding the 1838 Husker Pit disaster at Silkstone, Yorkshire - a tragedy which led to better working conditions for miners. Chained to carts and toiling half-naked for 18-hour shifts in near darkness, children as young as four were employed by mine owners. Yet it was not until the catastrophe at Silkstone, when twenty-six children were drowned in a mineshaft, that Victoria and her subjects realised that many Britons were existing in virtual slavery. This powerful and dramatic account exposes the real lives and working conditions of nineteenth-century miners. This gripping human story brings history, particularly the history of childhood, to life.
