

Fraternity

Remember us? We were Red Fraternity. We held court at COLLEGE, USA, from 1968 until the last hour before our Letters were removed. You may remember the news accounts pertaining to hazing madness, the time the SWAT TEAM surrounded our fraternity, the wet T-shirt contest gone bad or you remember the Brothers who sat around eating cookies while watching cartoons talking about instructors fist-fighting or chicks running wild, not to mention the drunken disorder and lewd sexual encounters in the name of Brotherhood. Enter the world of Red fraternity and meet Redberry, Cranberry, Tayberry as well as their sorority counter-parts; Acaria and Forget-Me-Not and read of the antics of fraternity life as well as the bonding of friendships then ask yourself; was fraternity life at COLLEGE, USA, just drunken debauchery or was there something else afoot. This is a fictionalized account of true events. Rick Lundeen received a Certificate of Recognition for his creativeness and is a graduate of Western Illinois University. The Denver Gazette calls Fraternity, antics that goad the reader into laughter . . .
