

Lost & Found: Poems of Life and Love

Emotions affect all of us in different ways. Lost & Found: Poems of Life and Love, Lyn Beyers debut collection of poetry, is a collage of feelings. We have all lost loved ones in death and in the changing of our paths in life or love. We have also rediscovered love and life is good again. Relive your LOST loves and your new loves FOUND in these pages. Capturing these emotions and feelings that everyone has and putting them to verse is a labor of love. The author wants the reader to be able to see themselves in these poems. To see and feel with your heart those life experiences that have created your personality as it relates to being LOST or FOUND. In or out of love. With someone or alone. In mourning or celebration. In these verses, hope and loss are both recalled. The lines allow the readers mind to wander to private places and endless dreams. Losing love and falling in love are emotional highs and lows that follow us each day. LOST and FOUND recalls those moments to our memories and lets us know that we are not alone. Some days memories are all we have. The poems on these pages allow your imagination to carry you away. It is the authors fondest wish that these musings touch your heart. It is a journey worth taking and not a destination.
