

In Search of Zion

Before Rachael has the chance to complete one quarter of college she has to return home to arrange the funeral of her parents. While at home Rachael finds journals written by one of her ancestors, Elizabeth, which came across the Atlantic in 1853 as an immigrant with her husband, five children and one on the way, to the Utah Territory. Rachael finds herself on a journey of her own and facing an unknown future until she meets Azuno. There is something unsettlingly familiar about this student she tries to ignore but all that changes when in a dream Elizabeth brings her a message of hope. Will Rachael cheat death when her parents killer comes after her? Rachael and Azunos lives intersect in the spiritual realm between Gods angels and the native spirits of the Ancestors. Which Camp will win their souls? Le Anne Kemmish has two short stories published and has been writing since she was a teenager. Elizabeths adventures are in fact true stories from her own heritage. She used their real names from her family history even though there were no journals found and the present day characters are fiction.
